

- 5.8 To study the change in pH of acetic acid on addition of sodium acetate 40
- 5.9 To study the change in pH of NH_4OH on addition of NH_4Cl 41
- 5.10 Relevant questions with answers related to this chapter for viva 43
- 6. Qualitative inorganic analysis [45 – 88]
- 6.1 Types of chemical analysis 45
- 6.2 Qualitative analysis of salts for the radicals present in it 45
- 6.3 Tests of acid radicals 45
- 6.4 Dry test of basic radicals 55
- 6.4.1 Physical examination of salt 55
- 6.4.2 Description of flame 56
- 6.4.3 Use of Blow-pipe 56
- 6.5 Flame test 57
- 6.6 Borax bead test 58
- 6.7 Charcoal cavity test 59
- 6.8 Cobalt nitrate test 60
- 6.9 Wet test of basic radicals 62
- 6.10 Interfering acid radicals and their removal 67
- 6.11 Systematic group wise wet analysis of basic radicals 68
- 6.12 Systematic method to record a salt analysis for its constituent ions 81
- 6.13 Relevant questions with answers related to this chapter for viva 83
- 7. Quantitative estimation [89–108]
- 7.1 Quantitative estimation 89
- 7.2 Important terms used in volumetric analysis 89
- 7.3 Equipments (apparatus) used in volumetric analysis 95
- 7.4 To prepare 250 ml solution of oxalic acid of strength around 0.01N 99
- 7.5 To determine strength of supplied solution of NaOH by titrating against standard solution of oxalic acid (i.e. solution of known strength) 101
- 7.6 To prepare 250 ml solution of Na_2CO_3 having strength around 0.1M 103
- 7.7 To determine strength of supplied solution of HCl by titrating against standard solution of Na_2CO_3 (i.e. solution of known strength) 104
- 7.8 Relevant questions with answers related to this chapter for viva 106
- 8. Detection of N, S, Cl, Br and I in organic compound [109–116]
- 8.1 Introduction 109
- 8.2 Preparation of Lassaigne's solution alongwith reactions involved there in 109
- 8.3 Tests for presence of N, S, Cl, Br and I in an organic compound 111
- 8.4 Reactions involved in tests for presence N, S, Cl, Br and I 112
- 8.5 Relevant questions with answers related to this chapter for viva 114
- 9. Appendices [117–120]

Appendix A-I : Conc. & dil. acids, solution of bases, solution of some indicators, solution of some reagents for common self and solid reagents for common self Appendix A-II : Laboratory accidents and first aid
